

Dr. Steven M. Horowitz

Upon graduation from New York Chiropractic College, in 1986, he initially practiced in Manhattan before relocating to West Palm Beach, Florida, to open Village Chiropractic and Healing Arts Center providing the latest integrated health care expertise to patients. Now established for 19 years, Dr. Horowitz prides himself and his staff in exceeding patients' expectations.

The Healing Arts Center is comprised of chiropractic, acupuncture, massage, and Pilates. Because Dr. Horowitz cares about and listens to his patients, he understands that health issues and concerns can vary widely from person to person. Thus, an integrative approach is highly successful in his practice to achieve the goals of the patient. Dr. Horowitz believes the incorporation of alternative therapies with traditional medicine result in optimal health and well-being.

Certified in Pilates Rehabilitation from Polestar Education, his expertise in movement therapy prompted the expansion of his clinical practice to include a complete Pilate-based rehabilitation studio. His knowledge in this field has allowed him to participate in the care and treatment of the Miami City Ballet and members of the Palm Beach Opera.

In addition to running a successful practice, Dr. Horowitz, is entrusted to perform Independent Medical Examinations for many organizations throughout Florida and the United States. Consequently, because of his extensive knowledge and years of experience, he is often called upon by courts of competent jurisdiction to testify as a professional witness for both plaintiffs and defendants.

As an active participant in the community, he delivers "Health Talks" to many businesses throughout the West Palm Beach metropolitan area focusing on nutrition, exercise, stress reduction and advances in health care. New patients and continued good will are a result of this action.

Dr. Horowitz, as past President of the Palm Beach County Chiropractors Association and established expert by the community, is relied upon to deliver health and well-being information through television appearances as an often invited guest on the local affiliates of NBC, ABC, and CBS news networks.

Passionate about his profession, he constantly strives to educate his patients on the cause and prevention of disease and current healthcare options.
